NCFA National Award Winners

2023 NCFA Offensive Player of the Year Quarterback, Spencer Moore

The ultimate team player, Spencer Moore waited four years for his opportunity to finally be QB1 and his 2023 season did not disappoint. He broke the NCFA single-season record for passing touchdowns with 32 and threw for 2,209 yards, just the second player in league history to eclipse the 2,000 yard mark. He led the Buckeyes to their fourth straight national title game and fourth conference crown, scoring 36 total touchdowns, which ranks third in NCFA history.

2019, 2022 NCFA Offensive Player of the Year, 2021 NCFA National Championship Game MVP

Quarterback, Kellyn Gerenstein

In his sophomore season, Kellyn Gerenstein led the NCFA in passing yards, passing touchdowns and completion percentage on his way to becoming the first player in program history to win a national award. In 2021, he led Ohio State to a repeat title, scoring 5 TDs in the championship game. He is the only player in league history to win an NCFA Offensive or Defensive MVP more than once. In 2022, he tallied 37 total touchdowns, which ranks second in NCFA history.

2019 NCFA National Championship Game MVP Safety, Sam Frank

In the program's first appearance in the national championship game, sophomore safety Sam Frank played the best game of his career, collecting nine tackles, an interception and a 48-yard fumble recovery return for a touchdown in a 36-9 win over Oakland.

2023 NCFA Assistant Coach of the Year

Dylan Barron

A five-year starter at linebacker, Dylan Barron joined the coaching staff in 2019 as defensive coordinator and immediately established himself as one of the top assistant coaches in the league. His first defense surrendered just 5.9 points per game en route to the 2019 NCFA National Title. In 2021, his defense broke the program record for turnovers forced in a single season. After a year away, Barron returned in 2023 and won the NCFA Assistant Coach of the Year in just the second year of the award's existence. His defense surrendered less than 10 points per game and five defensive starters were named to either first or second team All-America lists.

2019 NCFA Coach of the Year

James Grega, Jr.

After taking over as head coach in 2018, James Grega led the Buckeyes to their first national championship in 2019. He was named the NCFA Coach of the Year after Ohio State finished his second year at the helm with a perfect 9-0 record. It was just the second undefeated season in program history and the first since joining the NCFA in 2012. Also serving as offensive coordinator and QBs coach, Ohio State averaged 36.9 points per game and quarterback Kellyn Gerenstein was named the NCFA's Offensive Player of the Year. Grega, 27, was the youngest coach to win the award.
